

POSTCARD

Hi there.
The weather's been strange lately —gusts so strong they joked it felt like a tornado, even if that's impossible here. A few tourists fled the square when the café umbrellas took flight. Meanwhile, the council's trying to veto the new traffic plan, but it's causing more noise than change. Wish you were here to see the drama unfold.

Best,
